NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE question of removing Davidson College to Charlotte is being discussed.

THE Young Men's Christian Association of Wilmington now boasts of a membership of 410.

TARIFF reform is said to be making great inroads on the protective system at the North, as well as the South.

GOV. HILL and Mayor GRANT have declined, with thanks, to "cut the pigeon wing," at the Centennial quadrille.

THE latest election returns show that Montana, one of the new Republican States, has fallen into line in the Democratic column.

VAN RICHARDSON, U. S. Marshal for this, the Eastern district of North Carolina, has sent in his resignation to take effect May 1st.

MAYOR GRANT is having a lively tilt with JAY GOULD in the Empire City, and from all accounts the former will surely down the latter.

APPLICATIONS for post offices continue to roll into Washington. Of late the applicants are growing so thirsty that they enclose their photos.

THE United States Consul General at Rio Janeiro has reported to the Secretary of State that yellow fever is prevalent there to an alarming extent.

WHAT better could the Democrats ask than to have Mr. HARRISON keep on shaking the negroes out of the Republican party and re-organizing it on a high tariff basis.

PERSONS who were so rapid in their opinion that Mr. BLAINE was going to run this Administration will take notice that Mr. MANLEY, of Maine, "ain't got nothin' yet.

CHEATHAM, the colored member of Congress from the second district, is putting in some good licks for his own color to the exclusion of his white allies. But who is fool enough to blame him.

"EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND told editor ROSCOWER of the Goldsboro Headlight, who boarded his train and interviewed him, that nothing could induce him to become a candidate for the Presidency again." A burnt child dreads the fire. Mr. CLEVELAND has "been there."

GOOD for the horney-handed sons of toil. They have, through their Alliances, solemnly resolved throughout the length and breadth of the State, that not one of them will buy a yard of "Trust" cotton bagging during the year 1889. Down with "Trusts" and the party that protects them.

NEW YORK CITY has been the scene of a lively fight of late, between the city authorities and the Western Union Telegraph Company, backed by JAY GOULD. Mayor GRANT seems to be master of the situation, however, and says the wires must go, and the work of demolishing the poles has begun in earnest.

EVERYBODY is forced to agree with the New York Herald that "entirely aside from the right or wrong of the case, the arrest of RUSSELL HARRISON, the President's son, for libel, on the complaint of ex-Governor CROSBY, is an interesting illustration of the difference between the American Republic and monarchial governments.

THE outspoken charges of fraud and conspiracy and constructive forgery, which have been made by certain ex-senators, ex-members and others, against seargeant-at-arms CANADAY, of the United States Senate, creates a sensation in Washington. Hon. D. L. RUSSELL is quoted as saying somebody will have a "happy time on the inside."

A PROTECTIVE TARIFF has its favorites. Mr. ANDREW CARNEGIE has informed his employes at the Edgar Thompson Works in Pittsburg that he has made all the money he wants. The sole reason why the establishment is run on such an economical way is that Mr. CARNEGIE has "eighteen or twenty young partners" whose interests must be guarded.

VERILY "de sun do move." "Application for a patent on an electric-light method of instantaneous photography has just been made. The apparatus is designed especially for the detection of burglars. It can be so arranged that a burglar, on entering a bank, office, or dwelling will, in his operations, touch something which will cause a flash and result in his being photographed.

EXPERIENCE is said to be a dear lesson to some, but others will learn no other way. Hence the negroes in the vicinity of Louisville are beginning to realize that their race has been most unjustly snubbed by the Harrison administration. The Rev. J. F. FREEMONT, of St. John's Baptist Church, Louisville, says: "The Cleveland administration was fairer and cleverer to the colored man than the Harrison administration is; and beyond all this, it is clearly evident that its anti-monopoly and anti-war tariff position is more favorable to the laboring classes."

STATE NEWS.

☞ FIRES.—C. W. and Duncan Shaw lost hundreds of dollars' worth of fencing, and it was only by vigilance and work that Mr. Fisher's house on Ashe street was saved from destruction. The mail train due here Friday evening was stopped at Cameron by the fire, and did not put in and appearance until next morning. Mrs. Ferguson, 2½ miles from Manly, lost her house and its contents; no insurance. N. J. Blue's smoke house, containing his year's supply of bacon, was burned and Duncan McDonald lost his corn crib with what remained of his year's stock of corn. The house known as the Green house, formerly occupied by T. R. Gains, was burned. Mr. Buchan, of Manly, lost 100 cords of wood, and many railroad ties were burned. Section master Stephens lost his fences, and fearing he could not save his house, took his wife and his two days old babe to Manly, a distance of six miles. The fires are said to be the most destructive that have occurred for several years.—Jonesboro Leader.

☞ ROBERT LEESON PORTER.—The man who was so long detained in our city jail as "Scott Partin," is now in jail at Hillsboro. He came to that town several days ago in a very destitute condition and the humane Mayor, after satisfying himself by investigation as to the identity of the poor man, gave him quarters in the public jail in order that he might be cared for. The Mayor has written to our Mayor and Chief of Police, with the view of placing Porter in possession of the money which was forwarded to him by his sister in Ireland. It is probable that our city authorities will have him brought to Raleigh, and again open communication with his family in regard to him.—Raleigh Daily Call.

☞ DR. ENNETT'S ACCIDENT. — We are sorry to hear of a painful accient sustained by Dr. W. T. Ennett at Garysburg while on his way to the annual meeting of the State Medical Society at Elizabeth City. He was seated in his room early in the morning and had a hemorage and fainted from loss of blood. He was near the fireplace at the time and fell with his feet in it and when found they were pain fully burned.—Wilmington Review.

☞ COLLISION ON W. N. C. R. R.—Another collision on the Western North Carolina road near Nebo City yesterday about 11 o'clock a. m., between two freight trains. Other than smashing in the fronts of the two engines, and the bruising of one of the firemen of the colliding locomotives, no serious damage done.—Asheville Citizen.

☞ A BIG CONCERN.—The Piedmont Wagon Company has been re-organized with new officers, and with their $200,000 capital propose to carry on a business second to none in the South. The directors have instructed J. G. Hall, the president, to put up a new building of brick 2½ stories high, 200 feet long and 60 feet wide, with metal roof.—Charlootte Chronicle.

☞ Notice was given yesterday from Dr. Smith's pulpit, that on Saturday night next, the whole congregation, including all the children, were expected to assemble in the church to celebrate the thirtieth (30) anniversary of his pastorate with this people.—Greensboro Workman.

☞ There was an interesting trio of gentlemen at the Exchange yesterday. Their ages combined was 175 years, their married lives aggregate 105 years and their list of children reach 23 in number and grandchildren to be counted.—New Bern Journal.

☞ We regret very much to announce the death, which occurred on the 4th inst., of John J. Bennett, Esq., who was sheriff of this county in 1859-60. He was about 70 years of age.—Rockingham Rocket.

☞ J. W. Riddle, of Alamance county, was arrested in this city yesterday and lodged in jail on the charge of abducting the wife of E. M. Spoon.—Greensboro North State.

☞ By a change of schedule the Raleigh passengen train now leaves here at 2 o'clock p. m. instead of at 12 o'clock m., as formerly.—Goldsboro Argus.

☞ Rev. A. C. Dixon holds that a minister ought to preach at least one sermon every day of his life, and he is doing it.—Biblical Recorder.

☞ The first to receive new rosin at this point this season are Messrs. M. J. Heyer and R. W. Hicks.—Wilmington Messenger.

☞ The Durham Light Infantry will hold weekly meetings for drill from now untill the Encampment.—Durham Plant.

☞ The North Carolina real estate agency has been organized, with quarters on Third and Liberty streets.—Twin City Daily.

☞ The sun never sets on the United State. When the evening sun is going down in Alaska the next morning's sun is an hour high in Maine. This is a big country for a fact, and the politicians are always up and dressed.—Sioux City Journal

ARMY-WORM REMEDIES.

How to Stop the Increase of This Destructive Agricultural Pest.

Orange Judd Farmer.]

The army worm, according to Mr. Lawrence Bruner of the Nebraska Experiment Station, has appeared in that State in threatening numbers; and as a means of checking its increase he makes the following suggestions in a recent Station Bulletin:

"Chief among the remedies adopted for keeping in check the increase of this pest is the burning of old grass, stubble and other like receptacles for the eggs and hiberating larvæ. Perhaps this accounts for the absence of the pest from our frontier settlements in this and other Western States for the past twenty years and more, the customary fall and early spring prairie fires having destroyed such eggs and larvæ as would otherwise have entered upon the spring and summer campaigns. This is a preventative before the pest has "materialized." The burning should be postponed until spring has well advanced, to be of most benefit. During late years, the increase of area cultivated, and the prevention of starting fires on the prairie, especially in the "cattle districts" of the Northwest, has perhaps been the direct cause for the presence of this insect in injurious numbers.

Ditching, rooling, plowing, etc., are remedies that can be used advantageously now. Ditching and fencing can be resorted to in preventing the worms from passing from one field to another. Fence boards set on edge and saturated with kerosene will effectually check an advancing column, after which they can be destroyed by crushing. Ditching, with the opposite side of the ditch from the advancing host "dug under," will "corral" the worms for the time being when they can be destroyed by crushing, by covering them with hay or straw and setting fire to it. Poisoning with London purple and Paris green has also been resorted to with good results; but as long as other and less dangerous methods do not fail, it is advisable to resort to these. Grass or grain that has been sprayed with these poisons should never be fed to stock, as there is danger of poisoning animals so fed.

The Notable Men in America's First Parliament, April 6th, 1789.

From the New York Sun.]

New Hampshire sent Nicholas Gilman to the House. Massachusetts had a strong delegation, led by Fisher Ames, George Thatcher, Theodore Sedgwick and Elbridge Garry. Connecticut sent Jonathan Trumbull, Jeremiah Wadsworth and Roger Sherman. New York had present, Egbert Benson, John Laurence and William Floyd. Pennsylvania contributed among others George Clymer, Thomas Fitzsimmons, and Peter and Fredrick A. Muhlenburg—the last named the first speaker of the House. New Jersey sent Elias Boudinot, who was once president of the Continental Congress. Delaware was represented by Vining and Maryland by Daniel Carroll. The chief representative from Virginia was James Madison. North Carolina like Rhode Island was unrepresented. Among the members from South Carolina was General Sumter, the renowned partisan leader, while Baldwin and Jackson went from Georgia. Many of the members had sat in the old Congress, and probably their familiarity with its later habits of dilatoriness had much to do with the delay in organizing the new government.

The Senate was conspicuously a collection of well known men. It icluded Governor John Langdon, of New Hampshire, elected its president for the purpose of votes; Caleb Strong, of Massachusetts; Oliver Ellsworth and W. S. Johnson, of Connecticut; Philip Schuyler and Rufus King, of Tew Nork; William Paterson, of New Jersey; Robert Morris of Pennsylvania; George Read, of Delaware; Charles Carroll, of Carrellton, Md.; Richard H. Lee, of Virginia; Ralph Izard and Pierce Butler, of South Carolina, and William Few, of Georgia.

The Late Mrs. T. B Lyman.

Baltimore Sun.]

Mrs. Anna M. Lyman, wife of Bishop Theo. B. Lyman, of North Carolina, died at her residence in Raleigh, N. C., Saturday night, after an illness of several weeks. She was the eldest daughter of the late Jacob Albert, a well-known merchant of this city. She was born in Baltimore, and was married in this city to Bishop Lyman, and was abroad with him about fifteen years while he was American chaplain in the Protestant Episcopal church at Rome, returning to this country with her husband in 1866. Her neice, Miss Anna R. Albert, of Baltimore, was with her during her sickness and death. Her son, Dr. A. B. Lyman, left Baltimore Saturday night for Raleigh in response to a telegram. Mrs. Lyman was a sister to the late Augustus J. and Wm. J. Albert, of this city. She leaves four sons and a daughter, all married.

Amendments to Our Public School Law.

N. C Teacher.]

The recent body of law makers which spent two months at the Capital in session could not be called an educational Legislature in the strict sense of the term, but certainly it was a conservative body.

The amendment to the public school law of the State as suggested by Hon. S. M. Finger, our energetic and faithful State Superintendent, was before the assembly for a long while vibrating between the two Houses, as it would be changed and returned by each body, until towards the end of the session a bill of amendments was finally passed. The principal changes from the old law are as follows:

1. The school year is to end on No. 30th instead of June 30th as heretofore.

2. No contracts for teacher's salaries shall be made during any fiscal year for a larger amount of money than is actually to the credit of the respensive districts for that year. Nor shall any orders upon the Treasury be given to a teacher until he has the money in hand to pay such orders. (This means that school committees shall not contract a debt for the schools.

3. The next books recommended by the State Board of Education shall be used in the public schools. The State Board may, however, recommend more than one series upon the subjects to be taught.

4. The apportionment of school funds is to be made on the first Monday in January of each year.

5. All schools in a county shall be in session at the same time and but one continuous term in a year. (This prevents waste of the money in a short and useless term of two or three weeks at a time.)

6. All contracts with teachers shall be in writing.

7. County Superintendents with the conductors of County Institutes may issue first grade certificates to teachers who attend the Institutes, which shall be valid for three years. (This change is a long step towards the improvement of our school system.)

8. All teachers holding first grade certificates must, within one year after it is issued, stand a satisfactory examination on "Theory and Practice of Teaching," the book for this purpose being selected by the State Superintendent.

9. One-third of the voters of a town or city may, upon petition, procure an election for a special tax for the public schools of that community.

10. Any two or more school districts in the State may employ a practical teacher to superintend the public schools, and he shall discharge the duties of County Superintendent in those districts.

11. All the summer Normal Schools are abolished and the money which has heretofore supported them is to be used in providing County Institutes in their stead. [The State refused to appropriate the additional amount of $5,000 which was asked for to be used in the special training of the white teachers; therefore the colored teachers now receive $8,000 from the State for their Normals, while the white teachers have only $4,000 for training the men and women who are to educate the white boys and girls of our State!]

The Difference Misfortune Makes.

The writer in one of our contemporaries who penned the following has evidently had an experience on the unfortunate side of the subject on which he writes which enables him to picture so well the contrast in the modes of greeting by one's friends when prosperity reigns or adversity overcomes to the business man: "It is surprising what a wonderful effect the insolvency of a merchant has upon his former creditors! Men, who before were only too glad to take him by the arm and laugh and chat with him by the hour, now shrug their shoulders and pass him with a frigid 'How d' do?' Every trifling item of a bill is hunted up and presented that under other circumstances would not have seen the light of day for months to come. If the bill is paid, well and good; but if the obligation is not immediately canceled, the scowl of the sheriff, perhaps, meets him at the nearest corner. A business man who has never failed can know but little of human nature; for in prosperity he sails along gently, his barque wafted over placid seas by favoring smiles and kind words from everybody. He prides himself on his name and spotless character, and makes it his boast that he has not an enemy in the world; but when adversity and misfortune knock at his door, he is forced to look at the world in a less roseate light. He reads suspicion on every brow, and he hardly knows how to move, or whether to do this thing or the other. He beholds spies about him on every hand, and knows that a multitude of suits and attachments are ready for his back. In order to realize what kind of stuff the world is made of, a man must encounter misfortune and stop paying his liabilities; and then if he has any real and true friends; they will come promptly forward and prove their devotion. A business failure is a kind or moral sieve, which brings out the wheat and winnows the chaff; and passing through a financial ordeal teaches a man that fair words and affected good-will are not the constituent components of a true and reliable friendship."

A Life's Sad End.

Concord Times.]

Mr. Gus Fetzer, aged about 35 years who lived near China Grove, died last Friday of consumption, and was buried Saturday. He was a pronounced infidel, believing in neither a God nor a future of any kind. Two weeks before death, he, knowing death to be imminent, went out to a poplar tree near the yard and under its shade marked off the place for his grave, giving instructions as to how it was to be dug, the mode of burial, etc. He said he wanted a layer of cedar brush at the bottom of the grave, his body placed on top of this, wrapped simply in a blanket, then another layer, then a layer of boards, and then filled up with dirt. He said that when decomposition set in and when the sap of the tree drew him up to the limbs, he could perch on the tree and view the surrounding scenery for the ages to come. Mr. Fetzer was perfectly rational to the last of his existence. He was visited during his wasting illnes by several ministers who endeavored to point him to the way of eternal life, but in vain. The peculiar instructions of Mr. Fetzer were fully carried out, and he was buried exactly as he had directed.

Gladstone's Predictions.

St. Louis Republic.)

The most remarkable man of our time is the Hon. W. E. Gladstone—great in statesmanship, great in finance (he won his spurs of political knighthood as chancellor of exchequer), great in oratory, greatest of all in literature. How this octogenarian finds time to do so much, and to do everything so well, is a mystery.

He has recently published an article on "The Future of the English Speaking Races." It reads like a chapter in the "Arabian Nights."

One hundred years ago the English speaking people of the world numbered 15,000,000. These were distributed thus: In Great Britian, 12,000,000; in American and other foreign lands, 3,000,000. Today the number has multiplied seven fold and standsat 105,000,000. Mr. Gladstone quotes the eminent statistician, Barham Zincke, as authority for the statement that a century hence the English speakers of the globe will number 1,000,000,000; distributed as follows, viz: In the British Islands, 70,000,000; in Canada, 140,000,000; in the United States, 800,000,000.

is guaranteed to those who use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for catarrh in the head, or for bronchial or throat affections, or consumption (which is lung scrofula) if taken in time and given a fair triail. Money promptly returned if it does not cure.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J CHENEY & CO., Toledo. FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

THURSDAY.....APRIL 25, 1889.

OUR OWN CENTENNIAL.

The Fayetteville Observer announces jubilantly that "Fayetteville will celebrate, with pomp and splendor, the centennial anniversary of the ratification of the federal constitution by North Carolina" and that "ex-President Jefferson Davis is to be invited to be the chief orator of the day." Further on in the columns of our contemporary it appears that patriotism of Fayetteville responded promptly to the call for a mass meeting of the citizens of the historic town for the purpose of taking definite steps looking to a grand and glorious celebration of the anniversary referred to, appropriate resolutions were enthusiastically adopted and all the necessary committees appointed.

We join our brother of the Observer in his jubilation. We rejoice that the matter of the celebration has been put thus early and enthusiastically in train by the good people of Fayetteville.

Now let the people of the rest of the State join with the Fayettevillians heartily in their efforts to make the celebration all it should be and we shall have such an event as will make us all prouder than ever that we are North Carolinians.—Raleigh News & Observer.

Thanks, brother ASHE, and if the other members of the quill will contribute as much as our valued contemporary, and we know they will, the celebration will indeed redund to the honor and glory of the old North State, and the patriotic citizens of the Capital City of the Upper Cape Fear will. They have entered thus early upon the undertaking with a full knowledge of the great work before them and a determination to eclipse in splendor and grandeur all former celebrations within the borders of our grand old commonwealth, and make the Centennial Anniversary of the adoption of this grand declaration of principals and epoch in our history, such as will call forth the highest praise from all mankind and extort the admiration of generations yet unborn. Arrangements will be made for for the selection of one marshal from each county in the State. with Zebulun Bayard Vance as chief. On the the morning of the 21st, as the sun first scatters its rays of wealth and warmth over our lovely city, thirteen rounds of cannon will peal forth their tones, to be followed by round after round of volleys from the State militia. At night a grand display of fire works will take place, and with the co-operation of the citizens of the "Old North State," the event will, as our highly esteemed and patriotic contemporary says, make us all feel prouder than ever that we are North Carolinians

THE DANMARK PASSENGERS.

For many days and weeks hundreds and thousands of anxious hearts have scanned closely the telegraphic columns of the daily press throughout the country with the hope of learning something of the six hundred and fifty passengers of the lost steamer Danmark.

The fact that the ship was sunk in mid-ocean, and that notwithstanding the entire crew, except the engineer, and all the passengers, were saved, will involuntarily raise a prayer of thanks and gratitude for this remarkable intervention of Divine Providence, from one end of this broad land to the other.

Hundreds of voices blended in a great shout, and cheer after cheer rent the air, as the steamer "Missouri" with her precious cargo, which she had so gallantly rescued from the ill-fated Danmark, arrived at her wharf in Philadelphia on the morning of the 21st; and the home-sick passengers returned the greeting with an enthusiasm that will be an enduring monument to their gratitude.

To the United States Press, Dr. Jesperson, one of the passengers' said: "Our experience for a time was certainly a most thrilling one. Up to the 4th instant our trip on the Danmark had been a pleasant one. On the latter date, however, we encountered a severe storm. We would have weathered it all night, I suppose, had our engines held out. A hole was cut through the bottom of the vessel. It appears that simultaneously with the breaking of the shaft, an engine pipe burst and Engineer Kass was instantly killed. Another leak was caused by the bursting of the pipe on the side of the vessel. Thus matters grew very serious, and our vessel was left at the mercy of the waves.

A SAIL WAS SIGHTED

by the outlooks, and we at once put up signals of distress. The sails proved to be those of the Missouri. When in speaking distance, Captain Knudsen asked if the Missouri could take our passengers on board.

The commander of the latter steamer said that that would be impossible as he had no where to put them. He promptly agreed to take us in tow. We got along well enough for a few hours, when it was discovered that the water was fast pouring into the steamer through the big hole in her stern. The pumps were kept going without intermission, but they proved almost useless as far as saving the vessel was concerned. We kept at it however, until the 6th then it was seen we could no longer hope to save our ship.

Captain Knudson boarded the Missouri and asked that his passengers be received on the decks. At two o'clock the work of transferring the hundreds of souls from the Danmark to the Missouri was begun After six hours work, at 8 o'clock, on the night or the sixth, all the passengers of the Danmark had been safely placed on the Missouri, she was then the nearest land, where we arrived without further incident on the 10th. There all the young unmarried men to the number of 356, including Captain Knudson, and the largest part of his crew, was landed.

Shortly after the vessel had made fast to the wharf a beautiful floral design, representing a ship at sea, was carried up the gangway and handed over to Captain Murrell with a few appropriate remarks.

During the passage a woman by the name of Linney gave birth to a child. The infant was christened "Atlanta Missouri."

FROM "THE CITY BY THE SEA."

A Breezy Letter From Wilmington by a Former Fayettevillian.

MR. EDITOR:—With what eagerness I look for the OBSERVER every week and read each line (even the patent medicine advertisements) contained therein. It comes to me as a message from a spot and a people who will ever remain uppermost in my affections. The dear old town of Fayetteville, I wonder if there be upon the face of this broad land of ours a people so true and simple in their generous hospitality, innate refinement and irreproachable integrity. In a conversation the other day with a traveling salesman of peculiar shrewdness and business ability he told me that he would prefer orders from the merchants of Fayetteville to those of any city in the State, and that after an experience of fifteen years, during which he had sold many thousands of dollars worth of goods to her business men, his house had yet to lose the first cent by them. He also remarked upon the fact that in proportion to the business done that failures were marvellously infrequent. The words were a well deserved compliment to the place and people.

Perhaps of all the citizens in North Carolina none are more closely allied by bonds of business relations and mutual esteem than are Wilmington and Fayetteville and the prospects are now bright for their becoming yet more nearly connected. With the completion of the C. F. & Y. V. R'y to this point will be established a connection which will render easy and convenient a constant intercourse between the people of the upper and lower Cape Fear Sections, giving to each business advantages hitherto unpossessed. Wilmington is jubilant over her bright future and the spirit of enterprise seems to have permeated even the most humble branches of her inhabitants. At the last city election, held on March 28, the measure appropriating $150,000 for the purpose of encouraging the investment of outside capital was overwhelmingly carried, and manufacturing projects are the topics of the day.

Absorbing interest is manifested here as to the probable result of the suit brought by Gen. Mahone, Senator Jones, of Nevada, and others against Judge Russel, Messrs. Cannady and Brink, of the Carolina Oil and Creosote Co., for the fraudulent issue of stock in said corporation. Judge Russel, in an interview with a Messenger reporter the other day hinted that he anticipated some fun from the litigation and stated that the charges will not be confined to Mr. Mahone's side of the case. Telegraphic dispatches to the daily papers state that each of the plaintiffs in the suit dropped in the neighborhood of $15,000 in the corporation, but this statement is generally disbelieved here. The case will be tried in Raleigh.

Work on the public building at the corner of Front and Chestnut streets is progressing rapidly and the architect has displayed much taste and ingenuity in the details of his plans, considering the rather limited appropriation. The building is to be constructed principally of brownstone quarried at Wilkesboro, in this State, and is to contain the Custom-House, Postoffice, Signal Office, U. S. Engineer Office, District Court, etc.

The completion of the Onslow R. R. seems now an assured fact, and will materially add to the commercial interests of Wilmington.

The W. L. I. are preparing for the State Encampment in July and say that the old Independent Light Infantry must be content to share honors with them this year, as they intend, in a friendly way, to be their determined rivals for distinction as the best drilled and best disciplined company in the State Guard (and let me remark parenthetically that they are formidable rivals.)

I have read with much interest the letters of "J. E. H." in recent issues of your paper, and while, with "Rebel," I think the time to bury all sectional strife and hatred has arrived, still, how can any man who has the feelings and principles of a patriotic heart, and who claims the South as the land of his birth, fail one iota in the love and respect due our national colors? (I say "national" advisedly, even though we are no longer a nation) the sad-hued gray that has come to us with a heritage of woe, which, bedewed with the tears of widows and orphans and encrimsoned with the martyred blood of countless heroes, should be more sacred to us as the symbol of our greatest loss and grief than did it cover a memory of triumph and victory. "Rebel" is right. Let us shake hands with our Northern brothers and bridge the bloody chasm with love and good will, but let us remain none the less loyal to the gray uniforms in which our fathers and brothers fought and died. To regulate it to oblivion seems to me as sacrilegious as would be the abolition of our Memorial Day upon which we pay our annual tribute to the departed heroes. Bury sectional bitterness, but retain forever our feelings of love and reverence.

I see with regret that Mr. J. L. Prior removes from the old town to make his home elsewhere. Mr. Prior is an early and much-esteemed friend of the writer and I sympathize with Fayetteville in the loss of one of its representative young men at once pre-possessing and of uncommon ability and of a character of the utmost worth and spotless integrity. Many years of prosperity and happiness to him.

I am afraid, Mr. Editor, that I have been long-winded, if so, my most humble apologies to yourself and readers. G.

[Not at all, sir, we are only sorry you stopped so soon.—ED.]

AFTER MANY YEARS.

For the Observer.]

After a lapse of several years, we are again breathing the pure atmosphere and treading the sacred soil of the Old North State; meeting the honored and much loved friends of boyhood, youth and manhood. We find still enough left of the regime of forty years since, to make our heart grow big with emotions of exquisite pleasure as we go back over the bright and happy past, peopled with such warm-hearted, generous and noble characters as frank Roberts, James Ferguson, Charles Roberts, Charles Arey, Joe. Arey, Charlie Banks, Theodore Martine, and a host of others who have long since passed over the river and are resting under the shade. Peace to their ashes. Although dust to dust, ashes to ashes, has been said at their sepulchers, yet on memory's brightest page are their names written in characters of pure gold. But let the dead past bury its dead, while we turn our thoughts to the active, pushing present, our first and profoundest bow we make to that grand old sentinel, the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER, whose hair has grown hoary with age, but whose limbs, lithe and symmetrical still, entitle it to the first consideration at the hands of every son and daughter of our glorious old State and town. "May it ne'er cease to wield an influence for good wherever read: grand and glorious in the past, may its future be brighter than the brightest.

"Tis difficult to express in fitting words our surprise and pleasure at the developments of a decade. Everything shows unmistakable evidences of indomitable energy and an intense spirit of progression. Fayetteville in a few years has assumed the proportions and importance of a city. "Does it make us proud?" Yea, verily! and our only regret is that we are not sufficiently gifted to express in terms glowing with intensest poetry the feeling which at this moment fills our entire being. God bless our State and our town. May the angel of prosperity unfold her sparkling wings o'er State and town, never again to be closed till time shall cease.

Were we to yield to the impulse, forgetting that few would find interest in our scribblings, we might fill column after column with the events of

THE DAYS AGONE.

Sadness and pleasure—indissoluble bonds—
Were our companions; so we were not alone,
As we trod the devious pathways,
That wound thro' the days agone.

There were sorrowful and smiling faces,
Met at each phase of life's sun;
There was many a heartache and joy,
Felt in the days agone.

The sparking dew-drop on nature's cheek,
Many a smile from us won;
But the hideous spectre, neglected homes,
Stood by us in the days agone.

No soul can be bright and happy,
That trusts itself alone,
We know by the sad experience,
Wrung out from the days agone.

And memory bells still are ringing,
With now sad, now joyful tone,
While we quietly set and listen,
To the music of the days agone.

Friends have passed over the river,
Dear ones have gone, one by one,
And we miss the sweet smiles of greeting,
That blest us in the days agone.

'Mid shadow and sunshine we wander,
Our life's work almost done;
The darkness and light of a lifetime,
Buried with days agone.

May we visit you again TRIPOD.
Haymount, April 18, 1889.

Times About Wade.

Reported for the Observer.]

Fire broke out near here on Friday, which created considerable excitement for a short time, but it was subdued before much damage was done to property.

We saw as many as twenty-two carts and wagons all in a line, from Sampson, hauling guano from this place last week.

Our clever Doctor, E. P. Rose, informs us that there is very little sickness in this section at present.

The Bluff Sabbath School near here reorganized its forces on Sunday, the 14th inst., re-electing W. J. Smith, Superintendent; Alex. McNeill, Assistant Superintendent; Alex. McAllister, Librarian; J. F. Skipper, Secretary; Mrs. Julia McAllister, Treasurer; J. C. Bain, Music Leader; Mrs. W. D. Smith, Organist G. P. McNeill, of Fayettevill, addressed the school last Sunday in the interest of the united Sabbath School work of the County. Representatives of neighboring schools were present.

I. Boykin, of Lisbon, N. C., paid relatives here a short visit last week.

Our clever and much liked depot agent and post master, Alex. McNeill, made a flying visit to Bennettsville last week.

We have heard several farmers say they must spare a few days from their work to attend the Pearson meeting. We think many will attend from this section. Q. E. A.

Items From Harnett.

Reported for the Observer.]

MR. EDITOR:—I was pleased to learn from your last issue that the citizens of Fayetteville will celebrate during November next the Centennial Anniversary of the Ratification by North Carolina of the Federal Constitution. This is indeed gratifying intelligence to the good people of Harnett, a great many of whom will doubtless help to swell the vast crowd that will fill your lovely town on that occasion. If ex-President Davis accepts the invitation to make an address, you may expect to see at the celebration people from every section of the country.

The name of that inspired preacher, Rev. Mr. Pearson, who will begin to fight the devil in your town next week, is on the tongue of hundreds of our citizens. I think it safe to say that half of the people of this county will visit Fayetteville to hear him.

Memorial services in honor of the Confederate dead will be held May 10th, on the Averasboro battle field in this county. Prof. D. L. Ellis, a gentleman of very clever parts will make an address on the occasion. The public is cordially invited.

A new hotel of splendid proportions is being built in Dunn. Several other buildings of less note are also in course of erection.

Mr. G. W. Cox, formerly of Pitt, has been commissioned to take charge of the Dunn P. O. The worst charge that can be preferred against him is that he is a Republican.

Mr. B. E. Sedberry's Soda Fountain is in full blast, and having tested its colling beverages pronounce them first class.

Mr. H. R. Horne's new Soda Fountain has arrived, from which he is dispensing some delightful drinks to quench the thirst of the innerman.

We are requested to say that for the convenience of those who cannot come in during the day, Sheriff Fisher's office will be kept open Saturday night till 10 o'clock.

Mr. H. L. Cook, of this city, has been appointed by Maj. C. W. McClammy, member of Congress from this district, on the Board of Examiners for applicants for a cadetship to West Point.

Mr. J. D. Brooks, of the Dunn Signboard, has purchased the old Daily Journal outfit of this city, and the Signboard will appear soon in a new dress. Heretofore the Signboard has been printed by the Herald Publishing Company, at Smithfield but the recent fire consumed the entire office.

Until after the Pearson meetings close, the Young Men's Christian Association services will be held in the Tabernacle on Friday night next, and every Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Barclay will conduct the meeting Friday evening next, and his subject is "If Christ were not risen, what?" Everybody invited.

FOR CHINA.—Beaver Creek and Bluff Mills of this county, made a shipment of their cotton yarns to China a few days ago.

ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company will be held in Mt. Airy, Thursday, May 2nd.

STRAWBERRIES.—We return thanks to Mr. J. L. Tatum for something very delicious—the first strawberries of the season, presented to him by a young lady friend in this city, where they were grown.

THE "VARMINT."—Quite a number of our citizens enjoyed an exciting chase after a catamount on Rockfish last week. The "varmint" is supposed to have been routed by the recent fires in that vicinity.

EMMIGRATION CONVENTION.—The colored people of Fayetteville and Cumberland county held a mass Convention in this city Saturday last and appointed two delegates to the State Emigration Convention which meets in Raleigh to-morrow. A vote was also taken for choice as to postmaster of Fayetteville, when Capt. Powers received the unanimous vote of the meeting.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.—Mr. D. C. Cameron, of Keyser, was shot down from ambush about three miles from his home Saturday night last with a double-barreled shot gun—one load taking effect in the back of his head and the other in his hips, causing almost instant death. Suspicion rests on one W. A. Deans, who has been arrested and is on trial at Carthage this week charged with the perpetration of this atrocious crime. Mr. Cameron is a relative to our county-man, Sam Cameron, of Quwhiffle.

CAPT. CAMPBELL HURT.—Capt. Campbell, of the C. F. & Y. V. R'y, narrowly escaped death by some falling lumber near Hall's mills Tuesday evening. It seems that Capt. Campbell was in the act of stopping a car loaded with lumber which had been side-tracked by the shifting engine, when the lumber gave way, and sliding down, caught the Captain, felling him to the ground and buried his face in the sand. Fortunately the sand was deep and soft, or death would have been almost instantaneous. When Capt. Campbell was removed he was unconscious, though we are glad to learn that his injuries are slight, however miraculous.

MR. J. L. PRIOR.—Next week Mr. J. L. Prior will shake the dust of Cumberland county from his feet, and "seek places new and pastures green" in the good old State of Kentucky. Our genial and wide friend will carry with him to his newly chosen field, the hearty good wishes of a host of warm friends for a life of joy without end, and prosperity so long as he lives. During his career in Fayetteville Mr. Prior has won many warm friends, who esteem him for his spotless integrity, gentlemanly deportment, genial manners and unswerving faithfulness to duty. He is, among other things, the originator of the celebrated Prior's Rheumatic Remedies, a druggist of State wide reputation and will make his mark when and wherever he goes.

THE PEARSON MEETTINGS POSTPONED.—In view of the great religious excitement at Shreveport, La., where the Rev. Mr. Pearson is at present conducting a revival meeting and the urgent demands for him to remain at least a few days longer, the meetings in this city have been postponed one week only, and will commence May 5th instead of April 27th. In order that our people and public generally might familiarize themselves with the situation and the circumstances connected therewith, we append below the correspondence in full bearing on this subject which explains everything to the satisfaction of all, as follows:

"SHREVEPORT, LA., April, 22, '89.
DR. J. W. MCNEILL:—The manifestations of God's spirit here is so wonderful that we, the pastors, think Brother Pearson should stay longer and he has consented to remain this week.
PEMIE, SCROGGS AND VANLEAR."

In reply to the above Dr. J. W. McNeill wired the following:

"FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 23, '89.
REV. R. G. PEARSON:—Everything ready and great multitudes are expecfed here Sunday. Wire your intentions.
J. W. MCNEILL.

Replying to the above Mr. Pearson telegraphs as follows:

SHREVEPORT, LA., April 29.
J. W. MCNEILL:—Will close here Thursday night. Am broken down and must rest one week. The Lord is giving us a glorious revival. Fifty conversions at the inquiry meeting last night. Will begin your meeting first Sunday in May. If this is satisfactory answer.
R. G. PEARSON."

To this Mr. McNeill replied:

"Glad that God is blessing Shreveport. May he visit us likewise. We are satisfied with the time of your coming and would have you take the needed rest.
J. W. MCNEILL."

Mr. Pearson has given the committee assurances that should the Lord bless us with such a meeting as has just been witnessed at Shreveport, he will feed all out of the same spoon.

NORTH CAROLINA POST MASTERS.—Fourth Class Post Masters have been appointed in North Carolina since our last issue as follow:

A. B. Chapin, at Aurora; S. D. Delemar, Beaufort; V. A. Edmiston, Blooming Rock; Edward Howland, Cary; Marcus M Huss, Cherryville; S. B. Davenport, Creswell; A. G. Rountree; Gatesville; Reuben Peterson, Green Mountain; Jos. S. Long, Hartford; W. G. Bland, Lockville; Ed. K. Proctor, Lumberton; W. W. Gilbert, Mooresboro; J. L. Hart, Saluda; G. H. Makepeace, Jr., Sanford; Geo. W. Robbins, Shields Milis; Z. H. Smith, Taylorsville; Miss Houltshower, Troutman's; W. R. Jordan, Derita; Mrs. Bettie Garris, Garysburg; Nathan W. Bales, Jamestown; Alex. P. Liles, Lilesville; John Yancy, Jr., Marion; W. G. Hall, Maxton; J. E. D. Templeton, Moorsville; John M. Curtis, Pigeon River; W. S. Armstrong, Rocky Mount; Mrs. Margaret S. Mebane, Shaw's Mills; Asaph M. Clarke, Southern Pines; S. S. Tuttle, Rural Hall; George H. Mitchell, Winston (Hertford county.

FIRE! FIRE!!—The alarm of fire was sounded about half past two Monday morning, and it was soon discovered that the dwelling houses of Mr. Sam Ayer were on fire. A prompt response was made to the alarm by the citizens generally, but all efforts failed and the dwellings above named together with a cottage owned by Mr. J. L. Thornton and occupied by Mr. Ed Shaeffer went up in smoke. The principal part of the household effects in each instance were saved, and Mr. Ayer was carrying at the time an insurance of $1,500 on his residence, while Mr. Thornton had a policy of $250 on his cottage. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Again we are reminded of the paramount importance of the city's owning a pair of horses for the fire engine, to be used in such an emergency, as untrained horses are as inadequate to the demands of such an occasion as a new man at the hose. In order to obtain the sentiment of our people on this sbject we ask all who favor the purchase (by the city) of two No. 1 engine horses to hand their names into this office before our next issue with the view to publishing the same. All who oppose such a purchase by the city will also hand in their names and they will be given the benefit of their opinions and choice also.

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The 36th annual meeting of the North Carolina State Medical Society opened on Tuesday, the 16th inst. at Elizabeth City. Fayetteville was well represented by Drs. T. D. Haigh and J. A. Hodges. and we are all proud of our representatives abroad. Dr. Haigh read an essay on "Inebrity as a disease," which provoked favorable comment on all sides, and will doubtless prove the first step in the direction of the establishment of a home for these poor unfortunates. He was also appointed Chairman of the Board of Censors for the next year, a compliment well deserved. Dr. Hodges read an interesting and highly instructive paper on "The recent advances in science," and like all of his productions elicited the most flattering praise. He was also appointed to read a paper on State Medi cine at next Convention. In addition to this he was elected a member of the State Board of Health for a term of six years, one of the highest honors in the gift of the Association, and one deserving of high appreciation by reason of the fact that Dr. Hodges is the youngest member over elected to this position. Officers for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, George T. Thomas, of Wilmington.
Vice-Presidents, R. L. Payne, Richard Dillard, S. D. Booth.
Sec'y, J. M. H. Hays.
Treas. C. M. Pool.
Orator, W. J. Jones
Delegates to Medical Society, L. G. Broughton, W. W. Griggs, G. A. Eorte; Henry A. Dodson.
Delegates to American Association, C. J. O. Hogan, H. H. Hanie, T. D. Haigh, W. R. Wood, R. H. Sumier, G. T. Tucker, W. T. Ennett, Geo. W. Long, W. J. Lumsden, H. B. Marriott, A. G. Carr, J. E. Wood, T. F. Wood, W. J. Jones, Geo. A. Foote.

Easter Sunday Services.

By our Sunday Editor.]

This the Queen Festival of the Christian year, was celebrated at St. John's Church, in this city, with more than usual spirit and beauty on Sunday last.

The church was elaborately and tastefully decorated. The chancel was lovely to look upon. The altar and super altar were vested in white, with richly embroidered frontals. A pointed arch of flowers rose just above the burnished cross and a beautiful floral crown was pendant above the cross from the point of the arch. Vases of rare flowers stood on the super altar, and masses of flowers made a background bringing out the full effect of the floral decorations.

The font was beautiful. At a little distance it seemed to be carved from pure white marble, with cala lilies and roses (in full relief) twined gracefully about it. Many ecclesiastical designs in lo ely crimson, purple and white flowers, emphasized the great truth, "The Lord is Risen indeed."

The solos, duetts, trios and choruses with which the beautiful service was interspersed showed remarkab.e artistic skill in their renditiou, which was highly creditable to Fayetteville talent. Indeed the music at St. John's Easter would compare very favorably with the elaborate renditions in some of the churches in the large cities. St. John's people are particularly fortunate in having the services of Miss Barker, who certainly is gifted with a sweet and highly cultured voice, which enables her to take the highest notes without the slightest apparent effort. The bass solos of Mr. Jennings were given with pleasing effect. St. John's church is to be congratulated on its choir of exceptionally fine voices. The music to be heard there at all times adds much to the interest of the services.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson preached a most interesting and instructive sermon. His theme was the progressive character of God's works and creation. The first Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam a quickeniug spirit. The sin of Adam not being so much the eating of the forbidden fruit, but rather the obtaining prematurely by disobedience the perfection of his mental developments—a state intended for him at a later period. Mr. Atkinson's sermons are always interesting and abound with original thoughts.

In the afternoon a children's service took place. The singing was very sweet and the address to the children very interesting. Mr. Atkinson preached again at the evening service. His daily lectures during Lent are spoken of very highly by those who were privileged to hear them.

Easter day is always a red letter day in St. John's church.

At the Presbyterian church Rev. T. P. Barclay preached his first sermon, as pastor, to a large audience, impressing every one present with his earnestness and thorough consecration to the cause of Christ. Original and argumentative in style, Mr. Barclay thoroughly mastered his subject—"Follow me"—and made a good and lasting impression upon our people. May his administration as pastor of this church be productive of great and lasting good to our people and its members especially and be the means of reclaiming many lost souls. The church was artistically decorated with flowers, typical of the occasion.

At the Baptist church Rev. R. T. Gray preached, as usual, a telling sermon which was listened to with marked attention all the way through.

At the Methodist church, Rev. Joseph Wheeler, the pastor, preached an eloquent sermon from the text, "He has Risen." Flowers were beautifully displayed about the altar, and the singing and music splendid and appropriate to the occasion.

Personal Pencilings.

Glad to see Mr. W. A. Moore in our town of late.

We had a pleasant call from Mr. Geo. D. Elliott, of Wicker's, last week.

Col. J. A. Pemberton is enjoying a pleasure trip to Richmond, Va., this week.

Maj. W. E. Kyle made a flying visit to Greensboro Monday, returning to day.

Mine Host Barker, of the Hotel LaFayette, has returned from a pleasant sojourn at the North.

Mr. Geo. Rosenthal has been spending a few days with his family in New York City during the past week.

Capt. S. C. Rankin is on a tour through the Southern States introducing the celebrated iron bound buckets, now manufactured in this city.

Mrs. R. P. Gray, formerly of Fayetteville, but now of Warrenton, has been spending a few days in the city much to the delight of her host of friends.

Dr. J. A. Hodges, of this city, is receiving some very flattering congratulations upon his recent promotion in the State Medical Society and is the youngest member ever elected to that honored position.

Lumber Bridge Items.

Reported for the Observer.]

On Saturday, the 6th inst., the military company had their annual target practice, which was largely attended by quite a number of visitors including the fair sex. The day was cold and the wind very severe, making it quite unfavorable for shooting. Lieut. A. L. Shaw won the first prize, a handsome silver cup; Sergeants Rod. McMillan and Marley, winners of the two medals last year, made a "tie" this time and Mc won, receiving the second prize, a handsome tea-set; while Serg't Marley took the third prize, a fine mustache cup. The prizes were gracefully delivered by Dr. F. L McLeod. Quite a number of new members joined that day, which will add greatly to the strength of the company.

Forest fires have done some damage in this section and adjoining neighborhoods.

On Thursday, the 3rd inst., Mr. Jeff. Cobb, one of the handsomest men in the military company was married to Miss Ellen Shaw, at her father's residence in this county. We wish the happy couple a long and joyous journey through life.

Rev. A. McQueen and Capt. J. D. Malloy have returned from Presbytery at Cameron in Moore county.

Mr. F. N. McMillan, of Cumberland, was on a visit to his family (who are here at school) last Saturday.

Carpenters are now busily at work on Mr. McNeill's new residence.

Farmers are about done planting corn, and are now preparing to plant cotton.

We have had some dry weather of late, but rain and cold, windy weather make us shiver now, and retard all things.

Mr. J. C Lancaster while coming to participate in the target practice, met with a dangerous accident. His horse became unruly and began to kick, and after wounding Mr. L. upon the leg, became entangled in the dash board of the buggy and had to be cut out. Fortunately neither man nor horse was seriously injured.

Mr. Covington, of the Scottish Chief, graced the scene of the target practice with his genial grace. Both he and the Chief are very popular here.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT and CONDOLENCE.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Architect of the universe to remove from our midst, on March 26th, 1889, our late brother, MAX. SCHLOSSBERG; and, whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition of his virtues should be had; therefore be it

Resolved, By Fayetteville Lodge, No. 329, of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of God, we do not the less cherish the memory of our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of M. Schlossberg, our Lodge laments the loss of a brother who was a faithful and active member and who was interested in its welfare and the prosperity of our order; who, in whatever position he was placed, discharged his duties to the best of his ability, and previous to his death was acceptably discharging the duties of Secretary; and one who was a true friend and good citizen.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Lodge be extended to his family in their affliction.

Resolved, That the Secretary's chair be draped in mourning for thirty days and the usual badge of mourning be worn by our members.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother and to the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER for publication.

MARRIED.

GLOVER—HOWELL.—On the morning of April 14th, 1889, Mr. R. L. GLOVER, of Lancaster, S. C., to Miss LULA HOWELL, of Chesterfield. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive and performed by Rev. Murdock Shaw.

WITHERINGTON—HICKS—In Mt. Olive, N. C., April 17, 1889, Mr. BEN WITHERINGTON to Miss ANNIE P. HICKS, of the same place. Rev. Mr. McIntyre performing the ceremony. At the appointed hour the organ burst into a peal of welcome and under a canopy of sound came the gentlemen first, in pairs, Mr. I. F. Hill and Mr. H. J. Faison, then Mr. E. Boney with Mr. S. Hines, next came Mr. T. Holmes with Mr. S. Boney, followed by Messrs. W. M. Faison and W. L. Hill, Mr. I. F. Faison with Mr. R. D. Hill closed the list of the gentlemen. Then followed the ladies led by Miss Fuller and Miss Murchison, next came Miss Frankie Hines and Miss Carrie Holmes, and after came Miss B. Isler with Miss A. Southerland, Miss M. Hilyar with Miss A. Williams next advanced, whom followed Miss J. Hill accompanied by Miss A. Faison. Then under the eyes of all, the bride, Miss Annie P. Hicks, came forward accompanied by her sister Miss Lyda Hicks.

Last of all, the long procession was closed by the bridegroom, Mr. Witherington, supported by Mr. Robert Southerland. Moving forward, the party took their stand before the dais while the bride and groom advancing took up their alloted positions. Then in earnest words, eloquent in their simplicity, the Rev. Mr. McIntyre addressed the bridal pair, dwelling upon the duties and responsibilities of the married state.

NOTICE.

The Copartnership heretofore existing between J. L. Prior and A. J. Cook is this day dissolved by mutual consent. J. L. Prior having sold his interest to A. J Cook & Co, who will continue the business at the old stand, and hope for a continuance of the liberal patronage bestowed on the old firm. The new firm assumes all liabilities and will collect all accounts of the old firm.
April 1, 1889.

I will leave Fayetteville shortly to engage in business elsewhere and have sold my interest in the firm of Prior & Cook to A. J. Cook & Co., who will with increased capital continue the Drug Business at the old stand. I would hereby tender my most hearty thanks to the people of Fayetteville, vicinity and adjoining counties for the generous support and unvarying kindness to me during my business career in Fayetteville, and assure them that I will carry with me to my new home the most pleasant and grateful recollections of them. Moreover, I would most heartily commend to that same generous support and kindness my successors, Messrs. A. J. Cook & Co. who, I feel assured, will be in every way worthy of it. Very respectfully,
J. L. PRIOR.

BACHELOR'S WALK.

How jolly it was when the summer was high,
And the moon-silvered nights saw no cloud in the sky,
To stroll with my friends for a smoke or a talk
'Neath the breeze-rustling boughs along Bachelor's Walk!

My friends were the merriest fellows in town;
We laughed going up, and we laughed coming down;
There was never a break, there was never a balk,
In the pleasure we took along Bachelor's Walk.

Alack! and alas!—what a glance will undo!
There's mischief in eyes of brown or of blue.
It ends—we know how—all the laughter and talk,
In silence unbroken on Bachelor's Walk.

A wrack of dark cloud o'er the heaven is blown;
How mournful it is to be walking alone!
Bare is the bough and bereft is the stalk;
'Tis time that I hied me from Bachelor's Walk!

A Horney-Handed Son of Toil Accepts the Observer's Generous Offer.

MR. EDITOR:—Your generous offer to devote the fourth page of your paper to the use of the farmers I hope will be as generously appreciated by them. Now let each farmer who is a subscriber tell his neighbors who are not, and urge upon them to subscribe at once to the OBSERVER. If they are not able to send the whole amount necessary, let them send one half or even a fourth at once and the balance as they can spare it, and then let every farmer who knows any good thing that is not generally known write about it. Let him not be afraid of not being educated sufficiently well to write an article for a newspaper. Let him put down his ideas in plain, common words, and the matter will appear all right in the paper.

One of the questions of most vital importance to farmers of the South now is the best mode of making and saving home-made manure, and let every farmer not only add his brain to the work of getting up the best plan, but also add his hands to the work of developing and putting the plan into practical operation. No ultimate and genuine success can ever come to the farmer who does not utilize at least a good portion of the material for making home-made manure at his command, and it is absolutely distressing to think of the millions of wealth annually allowed to go to waste in this matter in North Carolina every year.

So let every farmer at once take this matter into consideration. Let them at once wheel to the right in their downward march and let them be assured that whoever will be most persistant and successful in making and saving home made fertilizers, will be most successful in making his occupation remunerative and honorable, and I hold that the first step to success is good stock; second good feed for the stock, next good shelters for the stock, kept well littered and good shelter for the manure made, until it is ready to be carted to the field, and for the farmer who feels he is not able to do anything of consequence in this line, let him turn his effort in this direction, and persistently hold to his course useing all spare time and means at his command. Let him commence and that at once and make up his mind to stick to it until success, and it surely will eventually, crown his efforts.

If he can not arouse himself sufficiently to make up his mind to make this effort and to stick to it, then in the name of common sense and common humanity, in justice to himself and the rest of mankind let him quit farming and go at something else, for if he continues in the effort to farm without a sensible system of raising home made manure, and a sensible system of application of them to diversified crops, he must remain poor, and if he raises a family they are bound to start in the world as paupers, so far as his help is concerned. A rich man may be able to make farming pay and buys all his fertilizers and and raise all cotton, but his dollars must be squeezed from the sweat of the poorest serfs and tenants. M. D.

The Medicine Man's Turn Next.

Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.]

That is a good story from West Viginia about an evangelist who went over the State painting upon rocks, "What shall I do to be saved?" A patent medicine advertiser followed him and under the question added this reply: Use Blank's Cure for Consumption." When the text painter heard of the patent medicine man's pernicious activity he went over the ground again and painted below the advertisement: "And prepare to meet thy God." The medicine man will find it hard to beat this.

Bride: Good-by, mamma, good—
Groom: Be careful, dear, your dress will brush against the wheel.
"Good-by, good—"
"My own darling; look out; you nearly bumped your elbow. Give me the bouquet; it looks heavy."
"Good-by, all."

THE RETURN.

Bride: Here, dear, take this bundle.
Groom: Gee Whittiker! Do you think I'm a dromedary? Hurry up.—Philadelphia Record.
